Librarian's Guide to Law & Politics Trove

Accessing your textbooks

You and your students need to be logged in to your university network to gain access to Law and Politics Trove. Use the 'Sign in via your institution' option in the left-hand box on the homepage and follow the instructions.

Walkthrough videos

Walkthrough videos for Law and Politics Trove are available from our Customer Service's 'User Guides' page on both the Law and Politics Trove websites.

These short videos will help you and your students get started using Trove. From logging in to adding DOI links to reading lists, the walkthroughs will help you make the most of your subscription.

Politics Trove
Diverse perspectives, broader horizons.

Personal Profiles

In order to get the most out of Law and Politics Trove, students will need to create a Personal Profile. This is done using the 'Create' button in the top right-hand corner of the homepage. Setting up a Personal Profile allows users to highlight and annotate text, bookmark important passages, and save searches.

Law Trove

Linking to reading

Use DOI links to direct your students to specific content for their studying. DOI links are available at book and chapter level on Law and Politics Trove.

6. Special duty problems: economic loss
Kirsty Horsey and Erika Rackley
https://doi.org/10.1093/he/9781198833687.001.0006
Published in print: 17 July 2019   Published online: September 2019

Kidner's Casebook on Torts (15th edn)
https://doi.org/10.1093/he/9780198830687.001.0001
ISBN: 9780198830687
Publisher: Oxford University Press

MARC records

MARC21 records are available for all Law and Politics Trove titles. These MARC21 records are AARC2 or RDA, SACO and NACO compliant. You will require MARC record reader/loader software to add these .mrc files to your library system.

If you had access to Law and/or Politics Trove last year, the easiest way to add the new MARC records for the 2021 collections is to delete the records for the 2020 collections and download the new MARC records from the Oxford Law or Politics Trove website. This will help you avoid having links to old editions so your library catalogue is fully up-to-date with new editions and titles.

Wider resources

It is possible to navigate to resources beyond the Trove sites. At book level, beneath the book cover on the left-hand side of the webpage is a button that offers to 'Find Print Edition in Library'. Each site also features 'Find it in your library' buttons in the Further Reading lists found at the end of each chapter.

Land Law (2nd edn)
https://doi.org/10.1093/he/9780198840329.001.0001
ISBN: 9780198840329
Publisher: Oxford University Press

Search within this book...
Find Print Edition in Library

Further reading

- A. J. Baker, 'The Judicial Approach to " Impact of the Human Rights Act 1998' [20
  Find it in your library   Google Preview

Metadata for the bibliographic reference is passed to the catalogue via an OpenURL resolver, and the relevant results from the library are shown (e.g. print/online, and whether they are available to borrow or out on loan).

Metadata from Law Trove and Politics Trove is live within EBSCO, OCLC, Summon, and ExLibris. As a librarian, you may need to change the URL preferences to the address for your e-catalogue in your SAMS account.

Accessibility

Oxford University Press is striving to make its products accessible to and inclusive of all our users, including those with visual, hearing, cognitive, or motor impairments.

Law and Politics Trove comply with applicable law relating to accessibility (including with the obligations under The Equity Act 2010) and much of the Trove platforms are already accessible in accordance with WCAG 2.1.

Read our accessibility statements on Law Trove and Politics Trove.

Usage

Oxford University Press provides online usage statistics to customers in accordance with the COUNTER Code of Practice, Release 5. You can self-serve usage data or you can contact your OUP implementation partner to discuss usage and find out more information.

Help & contact

To find out more information about downloading MARC records, setting URL preferences, and title lists, please visit our Customer Services page for Law Trove and Politics Trove.

Here you will also find our suite of materials to help get you started using the platforms, including tutorial videos and information on training webinars run by Oxford University Press.

If you have any further queries, please contact your implementation partner.

Politics Trove